The Senior Class of Webster High School

Webster, New York presents the 1944

★ REVEILLE

Webster High School
R. L. THOMAS, Principal
Webster, N. Y.

June 1, 1944

To the alumni of H. H. S. in the service
Dear fellows and girls,

This is to give you a tail runner's view of what the H. H. S. student body has been doing during the year. The year has come closer. Mr. William Young has left our faculty and is now a member of Uncle Sam's Army.
Several much missed members of the Senior class have also joined the armed services.

From the kindergarten to the high school there has been an enthusiastic participation in War Bond and Red Cross drives.
Our activities have been functioning as usual.
The Cabinet has dedicated a plaque to you, the alumni of Webster High School in the service of our country. Regardless of the paper shortage, the Courier has kept up with the news around school.

Both plays "Happy Days" given by the Senior class in January and the Junior play "And Come the Spring" given in March were "hits".
The season's program of the band and choir reached its climax with the presentation of the annual Spring concert on May 5. This has come to be an important community event.

The Junior Prom held in the fall will be remembered for its unique decorations. Adorned with an "eye-catching" collection of pin-up girls, the gym took on the appearance of an enlarged fox hole. The school's best dancers and jitterbugs turned out for the Senior Ball which was a haunting success.

Taking a look at the sports programs, not find it varied as usual. Both football and basketball teams, though, capping no pennants, made a fine showing.

It is most fitting that we should express our appreciation to the members of the faculty, coaches and student leaders who through unusual effort have carried on through this school year.

We hope that you the former members of H.A.S. have received that which will be a real help to you in the difficulties which you face.

Yours for speedy victory,
The Reville Staff

WE HONOR

To Mr. Young, our faithful and efficient guidance director, we, the Class of 1944, affectionately dedicate our Reveille. Although Mr. Young has received the call to arms, his kindly advice and spirit are still with us.

His commercial students have cause to be very grateful for the time and energy he has spent working with them.

As head of the Sportsmanship Brotherhood, he has endeavored to lead both boys and girls toward their ultimate goal and make them fine examples for the student body to follow. He is responsible for the penny-a-week fund that has been established to send gifts to the alumni in the service.

We truly appreciate the work he has done for us in our War Bond and Stamp Drive.

His patience and careful advice to the members of the Student Cabinet have helped them to run our Student Association with efficiency and skill.

We sincerely hope that Mr. Young will have success and good luck in his new field. Wherever he goes, he will not be forgotten, and we hope he will come back here as soon as the war is over.

Mr. R. L. Thomas

As the tempo of the war increases our thoughts are constantly centered upon the enormous cost in human lives lost or maimed. Though no rational person wants to die, millions of those in the armed forces believe there are things even worse than death—compromise of conscience, loss of liberty and self-respect, dereliction of duty. Life is a constant adjustment to values. The one great impression we hope you have obtained at Webster is an appreciation of values and a true perception of standards. You will be measured from now on by what you are and by what you do. Don't let the dollar mark confuse you, for success is measured not in terms of things you possess but in the spirit which possesses you, and in good character which is neither purchasable nor for sale. In this connection when you think of a real patriot, you think of Nathan Hale, when you recall a noble hero, you are reminded of Colin Kelley, when you select our greatest American, you instinctively choose Lincoln. They all knew, as we trust you will recognize, that all worth-while endeavor consists not in what one has or receives but in what one gives and does. What we have of security, honor, and well-being for ourselves and for our country has been accomplished and will be achieved by men and women who, though they wanted to live, "still dared for a high cause to suffer, resist, fight—if need be to die."

This up-and-coming Class of 1945 has been active and successful in several extra-curricular activities throughout the year.

On November 24, 1943, the high school gym was appropriately decorated in timely, military fashion, ready for the Junior Prom which was, socially and financially, a success.

The Junior Play, "And Came the Spring," was also a success under the direction of Miss Lois White.

Next year the Juniors hope to take command of WHS under the supreme authority of . . . Seniors.

EIGHTH GRADE

Showing splendid spirit and a marked ability to work together, this year's seventy-five eighth grade pupils earned high rank among the leaders in patriotic endeavor. The class led in both total and per capita donations to the Junior Red Cross and made respectable contributions of time, money, and effort to the Senior Red Cross, War Stamp and Bond, and Salvage Drives.

During less serious moments the group was also active and successful in sports and social affairs.

SEVENTH GRADE

Fifty-eight members of the Seventh Grade under the direction of Miss Jane Becker and Miss Esther Dunn, have participated in several activities throughout the year. Their principle projects dealt with New York State and Latin America.

Their outstanding social activities were a Valentine Party and a Christmas Party.

They regret the loss of a member of the class—Marian Leisten through illness.

SIXTH GRADE

During the past year the Sixth Grade has made regular contributions to the Red Cross and Bond Sale.

In Social Studies they have been acquainting themselves with the conditions of the warring countries in the Old World.

Their outstanding social events were a Christmas Party and a Valentine Party.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade consists of approximately sixty pupils. The teachers are Mrs. Scharett, Miss Hewitt, and Miss Poelma. The class is a regular buyer of both War Bonds and Stamps. The boys of the class are the champion basketball players over the sixth grade boys. In Social Studies they have studied North and South America and have followed the news of the day. Christmas and Valentine parties were also held by this grade.

FOURTH GRADE

Fourth Grade interest is in our world and how we use it. Members of the fourth grade began this study with the story of a man who tried living like the primitive man, when few of the world's resources were known and used. Then they followed through with man's earliest efforts in making a living in a particular type of occupation leading to man's present-day activities. In this way they learned of the hunter, the farmer, the digger (miner), the trader, and the maker of goods.

THIRD GRADE

There have been forty boys and girls enrolled in the third grade during the year. An interesting project was the making of a frieze of Centerville, the average town that was studied about in Social Studies. We have contributed to the Red Cross, Junior Red Cross, and have shown our patriotism by purchasing many war bonds and stamps. Good times were had at our Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine parties.

SECOND GRADE

Under the leadership of Miss Margaret Beman, the second grade made their study of maple sugar, took part in the Christmas play and performed in their own way for each holiday.

FIRST GRADE

The first grade scored up a group of forty-eight children, divided into two groups under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Gaffney. Their outstanding activities were the Christmas play and projects that suited each holiday.

KINDERGARTEN

There were thirty-four children enrolled in the kindergarten in 1943-44 under the supervision of Miss Mason. Because the group was so large, it had to meet in two sessions. Many holiday parties were enjoyed by the students along with their work on transportation and a village unit.

JEANNE VOGT	Secretary
MISS ESTHER DUNN	Treasurer
MISS MARIE STONE, MR. WILLIAM YOUNG	Advisors

One of the most outstanding events of each year is the student elections for their president and vice-president. The forceful campaign this year was no exception.

Soon after getting settled in their new offices, attention was focused on the alumni of Webster High, as well as on the present enrollment. A list of names and addresses was compiled of graduates since 1940 who are now serving in the armed forces. Pocket-size notebooks are to be sent to them as a remembrance of their Alma Mater. Each one is to contain calendars, "The Star Spangled Banner," the "Alma Mater," a personal message from Mr. Thomas, principal, and blank pages for jotting down notes. These notebooks and the continued practice of sending "Couriers" are being financed by the voluntary contributions of Webster High students in the penny-a-week campaign. In the near future, a plaque bearing an inscription by Mr. Thomas is to be dedicated to our servicemen.

The sale of war bonds and stamps, and the annual carnival presented by student and faculty talent proved very successful.

One of the student association's most welcome achievements was the establishment of a dance band to play after basketball games, and at Student Mixers scheduled to be held at the close of the basketball season. Movies are also to be shown at these mixers.

For our recently installed public address system, the cabinet is continuing the purchase of popular dance records which are received enthusiastically by students dancing in the gym during noon hours.

Despite the many difficulties brought about by the war, the student cabinet, aided by the wise guidance of two of its most noteworthy teachers—Miss Stone and Mr. Young—has met each new problem aptly.

The Senior Home Economics Club started a successful year with a membership of sixteen girls. Social activities included an initiation party, a Halloween and a Christmas party with the Agriculture Club.

In February, eleven Senior girls, together with Miss Hussey, enjoyed a three day trip to Cornell. Due to wartime conditions there was no Farm and Home Week, but the girls were taken through many important buildings by student councilors.

This year several girls were awarded the National Home Economics Club's pin and letter at the Mothers' and Daughters' Banquet, as a reward for their participation in the activities during the year.

Through the excellent advising of Miss Crowe, the girls had a very successful year. Meetings were held every two weeks to which everyone responded.

During the course of their study, they did outstanding work for the Red Cross. A Baked Foods Sale was held in order to raise money for their club. From this, music records were purchased for the school. Other social activities included a roller skating and Halloween party.

Printing difficulties confronted the Courier staff this year due to the acute manpower shortage. In order to overcome this obstacle, all efforts were pooled to maintain its usual bi-weekly schedule.

Because of the off-schedule publication, however, no contests were entered. In previous years, the Courier has always rated highly in these competitive contests. With the support of its editor-in-chief, Walter Campbell, its managing editor, George Danzer, and the guidance of Miss Kathleen Goetten, it no doubt would have again established its name among the highest.

In May, elections were conducted for next year's staff.

This year, the Neoterics Club was successful in securing several out-of-town speakers for the benefit of its dramatically inclined members. Another novelty on their semi-monthly meeting schedule was the supper parties held during the meetings.

Plans have been made for a party to be given, at a later date, in honor of the Seniors leaving this year.

Organized to further the dramatic and public speaking abilities of its members, the club has indeed realized its intentions.

In spite of the cancellation of most judging and exhibiting affairs, because of the war, the Webster Future Farmers engaged in numerous activities during the year. At the Rochester Poultry Show, twenty-seven prizes out of a possible forty-two were won in exhibition while second place was captured by the judging team. Cancelled activities included those concerned with the County and State Fairs, the Horticultural Show and Farm and Home Week. The most outstanding event of the year was the annual Father and Son Banquet at which there was nearly one hundred per cent attendance and nearly all club members participated in the program.

Other activities engaged in by the F. F. A. were the annual summer picnic, a Christmas Party with the Home Economic girls, a visit to Cornell University in Ithaca by the senior members, the County Rally at Churchville, basketball, and the co-operative selling of seeds and other agricultural supplies.

Atteneance at meetings and participation in the various activities were exceptionally high this year. The boys attended the annual state F. F. A. meeting at Morrisville in May, had a picnic with the Homd Economic girls in June and had a very commendable softball team.

Due to war conditions and accidents, the girls elected in many cases were unable to serve their office.

The club as a whole responded to the need that increased work with less help was made necessary in the library. Thier motto of service made each member accept a responsibility and increase the efficiency of the library in the community. Branches were started at Holy Trinity School and at West Webster.

Social activities included a house party at Webster Park, noon-hour luncheons, a Christmas party, and a Mother's Day tea.

Because the library functions as an active agency for democracy, all effort done by the girls has been a very real aid in the war effort.

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Class presented the three-act comedy, "Happy Days," by Glenn Hughes, on January 20, 1944. Mrs. Hill directed the play and was assisted by Jane VerDow. Betty, the daughter, is in all kinds of scrapes because of her fun-loving nature. She overhears a plot to get rid of her for an afternoon when her mother is planning to bring in a matrimonial prospect for Lucile, her older sister. Betty swaps places with Geneva, the maid, and causes a great deal of consternation. Larry, the intended prospect, falls for Betty. With Geneva writing to a matrimonial bureau for a husband, further laughs are added to this thoroughly entertaining play.

Christine Myers		SHIRLEY AUSTIN

"And Came the Spring," a three act comedy by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes, was presented on March 31, by the Junior Class. Miss White directed it with the assistance of Wendy Steinorth.

Throughout the play, Midge, the energetic, bright-eyed, Hartman daughter of 15 proved a source of much amusement to the audience, and of great despair to her mother, father, sister, Virginia, brother, Elliot, and other members of the cast. However, she righted her mistakes and the family continued to live in its normal state of affairs.

Under the direction of Mr. John C. Cummings, the Webster High School Band has completed another successful year. Much effort was spent in the preparation of two assembly programs and the annual Spring Concert. With the usual participation in the Memorial Day Parade, the 1943-44 season of the band came to a close.

This year Miss Withey, a new addition to the musician staff, received a number of approximately seventy vocalists, both boys and girls. From this number, the best vocalists were chosen and formed the special choir. The Christmas pageant started the season off very successfully. The year ended, a big success, with the usual Spring Concert. The girls' sextet, composed of Hildagarde Straube, Ruth Studeman, Sandra Meddaugh, Phyllis Averill, Marjorie Heard, and Eileen Ayers, sang between acts of the Senior play. This year, a boys' quarter was formed consisting of Roger Quinn, Gary Morrison, Jack Wright, Charles Hilfiker. Gloria Barrett accompanied the boys' choir, Gene Small, the Girls' Choir, and Phyllis Averill, the mixed choir.

SPORTSMANSHIP BROTHERHOOD

Again, as in preceding years, the honor society of Webster High School, went about the task of "tapping" in its new members from the Junior Class. These students were chosen on the basis of citizenship, participation in school activities, scholarship, and individual personalities. This year the Brotherhood was faced with the loss of its advisor, William Young. His long held job was most graciously and successfully filled by Miss Lois White. The members of the club again checked at the season basketball games.

The Boys' Safety Patrol consists of approximately 25 active members (after three years of service, they become honorary members) who serve 20 minute duties each day in the school year at the three crossings used by nearly all W. H. S. students. After one year's service, the members receive pins, and at the end of three years, a school letter is awarded.

Meetings are held every Friday, Period 4. At that time, all cases are tried and offenders sentenced.

Activities this year included an Initiation Banquet, several "fun" nights in the school gym, the sale of candy to raise funds for the Reveille picture and a final banquet in honor of next year's officers.

Again, as in the preceding year, Webster was greatly handicapped in the athletic field due to the many civilian restrictions. Even with this fact in mind, the coaches and managers did a splendid job in making this a successful year in all the sports.

CHEER-LEADERS

Jeanne

FIRST ROW: Steepce, Minion, Merz.
 SECOND ROW: Averill, Vogt, Collins,

 Coveny.

Vim, vigor, and vitality opened another school year for the cheerleaders under the supervision of Miss Noble. Eleanore Minion, the only member left from the last year's senior squad, was elected head cheerleader, while Betty Collins and Beverly Amann moved up from the junior squad. George Danzer and Dick Coveny, who were chosen by the student body in assembly, completed the quintette.

During this same assembly Jeanne Vogt, Phyllis Averill, Jeanne Merz, and Wanda Rosenbauer were chosen with Fay Steepce as their leader to make up the junior squad. The purpose of this squad is to cheer at second team games in order that it may some day fulfill the requirements of the senior squad.

Beverly Amann's unavoidable move to Fairport gave reason for the electing of Jeanne Vogt to the senior squad. Thus the juniors were left to finish the season minus one member.

Both the navy and gold of the senior squad and the maroon and gold of the junior squad decked the stage of Webster High during numerous pep meetings.

"To teach the students the new cheers and to get them to run over the old ones, is more fun than a task," announce the cheerleaders.

FIRST ROW: O'Dell, Beach, Harris, Straube, Nagle, Pugsley, Hegedorn, Schrader. SECOND ROW: F. Giordano, Campbell, Marcello, Klick, Orlen, Jantschi, Englehart, J. Giordano, Ver Crouse. THIRD ROW: Whipple, Kircher, Wright, Partridge, Kittleberger, R. Lieberman, Schull, Lieberman, Mastlin, Perry.

With the four returning regulars from the 1942 championship squad as a nucleus, Coach Whipple and backfield Coach Perry built the 1943 W. H. S. gridiron machine. Although the team did not retain its championship, it turned in the respectable record of one win, two ties, and two losses and in every game was never outfought although often outmanned.

The season was opened September 24 by a scoreless tie with Waterloo's Warriors on the W. H. S. Gridiron. The "purple and gold" battled Fairport to a 7-7 deadlock in their traditional battle, October 15. Brighton ended a 9 game W. H. S. win streak extending over 3 seasons, when it defeated Coach Whipple's men 13-0. The season's high spot came at East Rochester on October 23 when an inspired Webster team fought the champion East Rochester eleven to the end before bowing 7-0. In the season's finale November 5, the Webster eleven rolled over Irondequoit by a 14-0 score.

FOOTBALL

BASKETBALL

Webster High School's 1943-4 court squad was one of the most successful in W. H. S. cage history. Its season's record of fifteen wins in nineteen starts speaks for itself. This squad under Coach Whipple finished third in league play and lost two games to the Champion Brighton quintet by only six points. The spirit, co-operation, and fight of this 1943-4 team will long be remembered in Webster High athletic annals:

BASEBALL

With approximately seventy boys taking part, Webster High School experienced one of its most successful softball seasons in recent years. Our five teams: Seniors, Juniors, Sophs, Frosh, and Aggies were formed and competition was keen. At the completion of this league schedule an all-star team was chosen to represent Webster High in games with other schools. Many of the boys who previously never got the chance to play competitive softball are taken under this dual system of inter and intra school activity and Mr. Whipple believes it to be the most extensive set up possible. It is very popular with the boys who participate and co-operation is the key to its success. Under the leadership of Mr. Whipple and with the spirit and participation of the entire squads, this season was one for future years to copy.

TENNIS

Answering the call for tennis tryouts by Coach Callan, holdovers from last year Stuart Amish, Bill O'Dell, George Danzer, and Bob Grolemond reported. Standouts among a fair sized group of newcomers were Jay VerCrouse and Wilbur Beh. Due to wartime curtailments of travel, inter-school competition was limited to home and home matches with several nearby schools.

FIRST ROW: Marcello, Giordano, Morrison, Pugsley, R. Lieberman, Stroup, C. Hilfiker, Partridge, Kittelberger, Hegedorn. SECOND ROW: VerCrouse, Klick, Danzer, W. Lieberman, Mastin, Harris, Quinn, Beach, Lathrop, Colby, Krenzer, Ferrin, H. Hilfiker, Whipple.

The track team this year was chosen by Mr. Whipple on a basis of 260 merited points compiled in competition held during gym classes. This standard of achievement was in conformity with state requirements and made a contestant eligible to participate in inter-school track meets as well as the county and sectional meets.

GIRLS' ACTIVITIES

Under the supervision of Miss Marian Noble, girls' activities for 1943-1944 have again proved successful. Arlene Maier was chosen general sports manager.

The fall season opened with many soccer fans enrolling. Lois Simmons' group captured high honors.

Hiking and biking clubs were started in the Fall and continued in the Spring. The girls showed much enthusiasm toward the new activities.

Bowling and basketball followed soccer. Two bowling leagues were started because of the large enrollment of girls. In basketball, the winning team was Marie Yaeger's.

Ping pong, badminton, and social dancing topped the main activities for the winter. Nora Spencer and Carol Green snatched the top honors in ping pong. In social dancing, basic dance steps were taught to a beginners' class on Friday night.

GIRLS' ACTIVITIES

Jean Vogt was elected volleyball manager. Six teams were organized and the end of the season brought amazing results.

More archery equipment has enabled a larger archery program to be carried out in the Fall and Spring.

Speedball, a game similar to soccer, was introduced by Miss Noble in the Spring. This new activity has aroused great interest among the sports enthusiasts.

Baseball teams were also started in the Spring. Many girls turned out for baseball and Webster High can be proud of its "swinging ladies."

New members were added to the Leaders' Club which was established several years ago. The girls continued to assist in regular gym classes. Each leader has a squad of her own of which she is in charge.

NUTRITION AND SCHOOL WORK

Rationing and the scarcity of some food products demand more skilled attention to the preparation of lunches, both for war workers and school students.

Both need wholesome, nutritious foods if they are to do their best, and keep fit and healthful.

Our Home Service Department has worked out effective plans for maintaining lunches at maximum nutritional standards, while keeping them within the limits of war time budgets.
